

Tera Patrick Graces Cover of STRIP LAS VEGAS

Pictorial titled “TERA PATRICK – ICON”

Adult icon Tera Patrick graces the cover of Strip Las Vegas magazine's January 2010 issue/issue forty-three. The statuesque brunette is also featured in a nude pictorial titled “TERA PATRICK - ICON.”

Shot by Strip Las Vegas photographer and CEO Scott Philip Santodonato, Tera dressed sultry in black lingerie and heels. The last true star in the adult industry, Tera Patrick started out as a runway and catalog model, has a degree in nursing and biology, has graced the pages of Playboy and Penthouse, starred in almost one-hundred films, owns and operates her multi-million dollar corporation Teravision, stars in Playboy TV's “School of Sex”, and now is launching her brand new burlesque show at the Rio in February. Tera is a true renaissance woman, and at the age of 33 she is more stunningly beautiful than ever, as she shares with the world her first nude magazine pictorial in years, exclusively in Strip Las Vegas.

The issue will be released during the AVN Adult Entertainment Expo and Awards Show in Las Vegas.

Strip Las Vegas, celebrating its four-year anniversary, has been known since inception for its breathtakingly beautiful photography, comprehensive adult entertainment information and in-depth celebrity interviews and features. The niche-driven boutique magazine offers readers the chance to see the sexy side of Vegas, with many of its loyal subscribers becoming ‘collectors’ of hard copies of the magazine.

Also featured in the January 2010 issue are Mia Lina, Cassidey, Raven Alexis, Kiara Diane, Jennifer Dark, Marie McCray, Jaelyn Fox, Sophia Sutra and Dia Zerva, along with feature articles on The Scinta's, B.B. King, and City Center.

For more information, go to www.striplv.com.